A Publication for Community Members

BUILDING THE BRIDGE

School to community relations is key to educational success for our district's students. Building a bridge from home to your student's classroom is an important connection for communication and active community involvement in our schools. Students and parents have an important voice in their education. Collaborating, communicating, and working with teachers is vital to a positive learning environment.

Over the past nine months I have been able to witness the pride in community to school relationships. I see parents volunteering for Sherman PTO functions, WHS and WJHS band and chorus concerts, the WHS plays, and the various booster clubs. Parents and community members are involved in most all our curricular and extracurricular activities provided for students. As with any organization it takes a team of members to make the programs successful. Participating volunteers helps us to continue to provide opportunities for all our students. I would like to publicly "THANK" all the people who volunteer at WCUSD#15.

The district still has opportunities for community members and parents to be involved. Consider being the bridge between home and school. Take advantage of the opportunities to be engaged and involved in your child's education. If you would like to consider volunteering and helping the schools, please contact your child's teacher, coach, or building principal.

We all play an important role in the investment in Education.

Education is a long-term investment and an investment for the future. Our Villages investment is the children of WCUSD#15. We owe them the opportunity to chase their dreams and become model citizens for the future. We believe all people benefit from an educated society. The stakeholders in the Villages of Sherman and Williamsville can be an active part of the investment.

It takes all of us to invest in KIDS!

Let's work together to make WCUSD#15 not only one of the best learning institutions in the state and allow our students to be competitive on the world level.

WCUSD #15 Spring Break will be April 2 through April 6, 2018. Please enjoy Spring Break, enjoy time with family, reflect on how you could have an impact at WCUSD #15, and continue to invest in the district education and opportunities for students.
